Welcome to The Royal Crescent Hotel & Spa

royalcrescent.co.uk | #MyRoyalCrescent

The Royal Crescent Hotel occupies houses 15 and 16 of the famous Royal Crescent, one of the finest achievements of Georgian architecture. The central house, number 16, can be distinguished by its paired columns and rounded window.

Built between 1767 and 1774, The Royal Crescent was created by John Wood, the Younger. It had been designed by his father shortly before his death, leaving his son to complete the work.

The history of the hotel is a chequered one. After World War I, numbers 15 and 16 became boarding houses. In 1974 a local consortium bought them and created a one-star hotel. After restoration, the hotel re-opened in June 1979.

Each room was restored, and each of the suites were named after iconic former residents of Bath or The Royal Crescent.

In 1983, The Pavilion was restored. This was followed by the completion of The Dower House in 1986. In 1997 the entire hotel underwent a major refurbishment programme, including the opening of The Bath House.

On 30th March 2012, Topland acquired the hotel and, thanks to a meticulous restoration project and multimillion pound investment, the remarkable building has been returned to its former glory and is heralded as a 'British icon reborn'.

If you are staying with us for multiple nights, our housekeeping team will change your bedsheets every other day instead of daily, as this helps us to reduce water and energy use. If you would prefer your sheets to be changed daily, please let us know.

If you would like your towels changing daily, please place your used towels in the bathtub or shower. Otherwise we will simply tidy your towels on the rail for you.

Room Temperature

To help us to monitor and control energy wastage, all of our rooms are set to the standard temperature of 21° Celsius prior to guest arrivals. You are of course very welcome to change this temperature during your stay.

Green Spaces and Sustainable Activities in Bath

Bath has some beautiful green spaces to explore, including Victoria Park which is right on our doorstep!

We highly recommend Bath's six-mile Skyline Walk, which starts in the city and takes you out into the countryside, offering stunning views over Bath and the surrounding hills. Bath is also beautiful to see from the water – you can hire a paddleboard at scenic Pulteney Weir, or perhaps book a river boat trip. Electric bike hire is also an option – just ask our concierge and they can help you to make arrangements!

If you would like to explore the city by foot then there are some fascinating themed walking tours available – including Jane Austen, Bridgerton and even Ghost-themed tours!

For more ideas, check out our “50 Things To Do” leaflet, which includes a section titled “10 things you can do in Bath without a car”.
